Why
recognition
is important

Recognition impacts how employees feel ...

Increases their
awareness

Increases their
trust

Fosters a sense of belonging

Supports their
happiness

Supports their
wellbeing

Recognition impacts how employees act . . .

Increases employee engagement

14% higher
employee engagement

Increases employee productivity

can increase by 30% when employees receive just one piece of praise a day

Drives revenue

2 times
higher revenue

Drives business results

12 times more likely to generate
strong business results

Reduces turnover

73% of employees that are planning to leave said they'd remain
if offered more recognition

Reduces burnout

43% lower burnout in organizations
where they practice recognition

87%

of companies
have employee
recognition
programs

It's time
for change!

65%

of employees said
they haven't been recognized in the last year and don't feel
appreciated

87%

of employees feel their recognition program is “stale, outdated, or
used as disguised
compensation”

The golden rules of recognition

M = Meaningful

Recognise the 'right' actions and behaviors

Create meaning in the 'say' (messages)

Create meaning in the 'do' (rewards)

U = Unified

Adopt a crowdsourcing approach to giving recognition

Understand impact of putting a limit on people receiving recognition - winners & losers

Remove the hurdles preventing participation in recognition

S = Spotlight

Use the spotlight to multiply the impact -
'stir the love around'

Use the spotlight to showcase what good looks like

Use the spotlight to help connect
your people

T = Timely

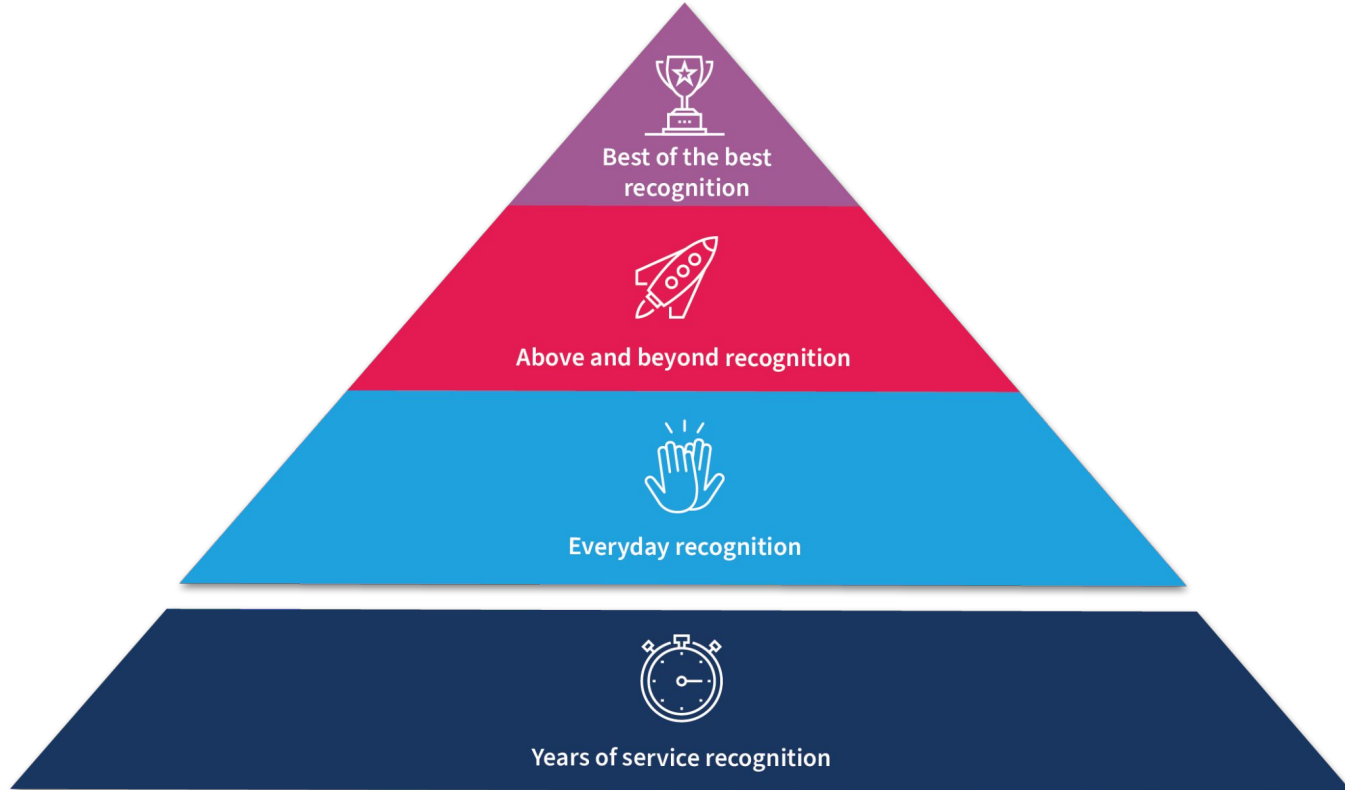

Practice 'in the moment' recognition

Recognize big and small wins

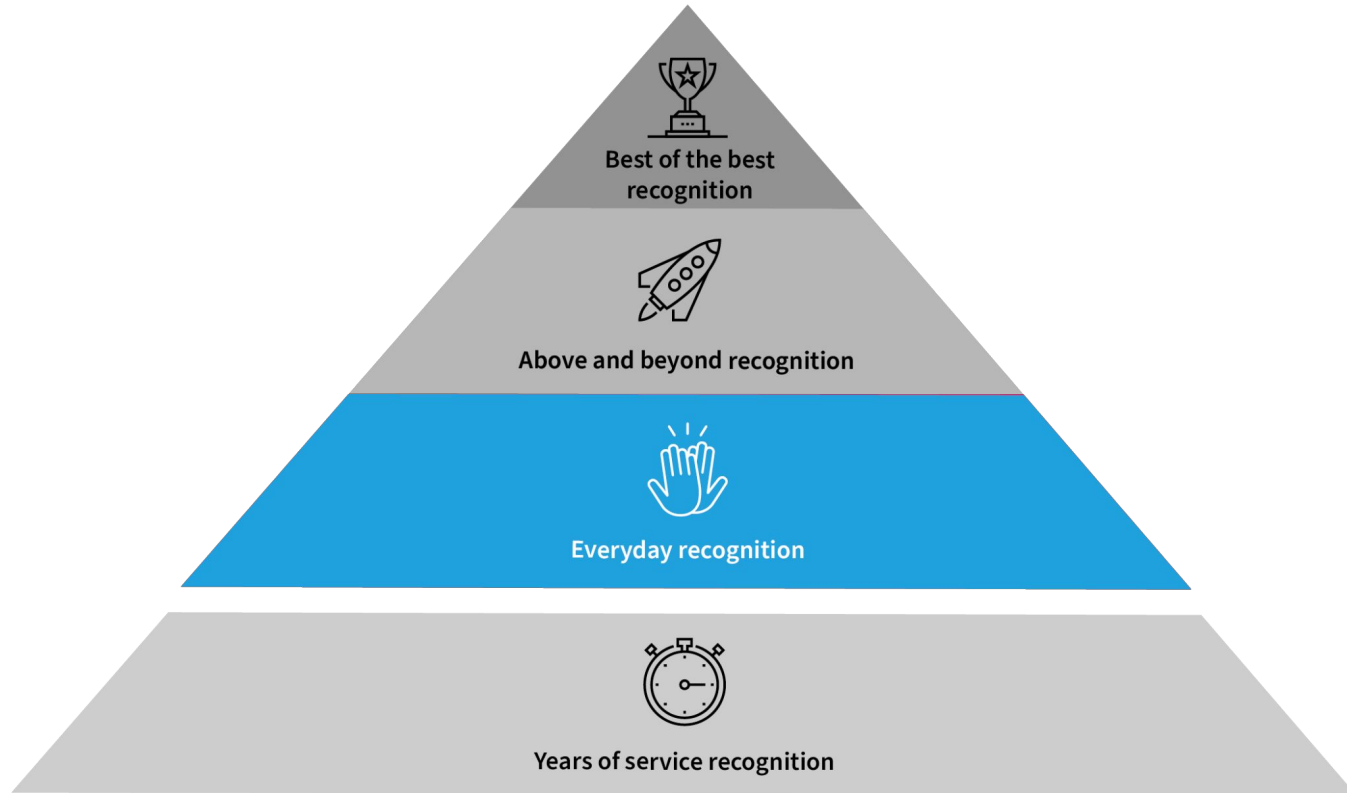

Revisit your time-based recognition plans
